Today's post is a very brief one. If you haven't done so already, please go and visit the From Every Nation website where you can sign up to receive a mission hits "fortnightly collection of links to stimulating online resources related to God's worldwide people and God's worldwide mission". You can now, also sign up to receive a quarterly collection of links to journals about world mission and world Christianity.

Chris Howles has done us a great service pulling this together, so go on and sign up, now.
