Some stuff that you should know about...
Category: Observations

I've more or less stopped posting irregular Bible and Mission links updates - mainly because Chris Howles does a better job than I was doing. However, this is a good opportunity to point you to his latest update, which includes a lot of good stuff.

Alexander Chow of the Centre for the Study of World Christianity in Edinburgh has posted a list of theology publications from around the world which looks very good and which is likely to cost me some money!

The last thing I'd like to mention is the Just Missions page on Facebook. This is run by a young Ethiopian missiologist Mekedes Habebe Haddis. If you want to know what the future of mission is going to be then you need to listen to young voices from the majority world. A great place to start is with Mekedes' interview with Diana of the I am Not a Goddess blog. In the days before Zoom interviews, I chatted to Diana by email here. At the moment, the interview is only on Facebook, but if it appears on YouTube, I'll embed it below.
