WORLD MISSION AND THE LOCAL CHURCH

Posted on March 4, 2022 by Eddie

In this episode of In:Dependence, Adrian Reynolds (FIEC Head of National Ministries) is joined by Eddie Arthur (Wycliffe Bible Translators) to discuss world mission and how church leaders can think about and develop world mission well in the life of the church.
Category: Observations

A few weeks' ago, I spent a morning at the headquarters of the Fellowship of Independent Churches recording a series of podcasts. I'll be knicking these for Kouyanet (with permission) as they appear!

https://youtu.be/T1TnltFy0ao

In this episode of In:Dependence, Adrian Reynolds (FIEC Head of National Ministries) is joined by Eddie Arthur (Wycliffe Bible Translators) to discuss world mission and how church leaders can think about and develop world mission well in the life of the church.

00:00 - Introduction
03:10 - Definition of 'mission'
07:57 - Moving world mission in from the margins
10:26 - Personal connections and world mission
17:11 - Developing world mission in the local church
19:57 - World mission priorities
23:45 - Whose responsibilities is world mission in the local church?
25:47 - Church to church mission partnerships

https://fiec.org.uk/assets/audio/World-Mission-with-Eddie-Arthur-podcast.mp3
Podcast: Play in new window | Download (Duration: 29:55 — 27.4MB) | Embed