FRESH EXPRESSIONS JOURNAL

Posted on November 21, 2008 by Eddie

Category: Observations

You can download the latest Fresh Expression's journal (Mixed Economy)Â here (or you can get a print copy for a couple of pounds if you are feeling flush).Â There is some good stuff in there and it is probably the first time in history that a Christian magazine has had reports from both Sue's and my home towns (Sunderland and Huddersfield, if you are interested).

The highlight though, is this terrific quote from Rowan Williams:

> the â€˜strengthâ€™ of the church is never anything other than the strength of the presence of the Risen Jesus

The implications that pour out of this are wonderful - what do you think?

HT David Keen (a blog which should be on your reader)