THE BEST JOB IN THE WORLD

Posted on December 29, 2008 by Eddie

Category: Bible Translation

Mark Naylor explains why being involved in Bible translation is the best job in the world while dealing with the worst sin in the world...

> Having recently come back from Pakistan after another month of translation, let me share with you one of the gems that I picked up along the way.Â One of the joys of translation is the discipline it demands to understand what the passage means.Â The act of representing the meaning of the original text in the forms of a different language does not permit the translator to â€œblipâ€ over the phrases that donâ€™t seem to make sense.Â It is that search for the sense of the authorâ€™s original communication that provides those â€œaha!â€ moments, as the meaning of some apparently obscure or difficult passages is clarified. (read more).