PICNIC BY THE NIGER

Posted on August 12, 2006 by Eddie

Category: Observations

I went out with the SIL Niger group this evening for a picnic on a little plateau above the Niger river. It was a lovely cool evening - which meant that we didn't get a spectacular sunset, but you can't have everything. What we did have, was a terrific view of the river, some good conversation and beef brochettes grilled over an open fire. Great stuff.