Over the next few months I will be giving a number of public lectures and seminars in various places around the country. If I'm in your area, you might like to come along - even if you can't come, I'd love it if you could pray!

- March 24: Plymouth University - Getting Under the Skin of A Classic
- March 30: Redcliffe College - Reading the Bible With the Global Church
- July 4: Sherborne Abbey - Lost in Translation: From England to the World

I'll post about others when they appear on the web.
