CONGO

Posted on March 21, 2007 by Eddie

Category: Africa

This time next week I'll be on a flight to Brazzaville in the Republic of Congo where I'll be running a planning workshop. If you'd like to get a feel for the place before I go, Linguistica has just posted an interesting piece on literacy work in a Congolese language. The picture is from her site, it's not one of mine. I hope I'll have a few piccies and videos to post while I'm there.