WINTERS IN CONGO

Posted on March 31, 2007 by Eddie

Category: Africa

Jeff and Michelle Winters are part of the team I'm working with here in Brazzaville. Their website has someÂ stuff about Congo which you might find interesting. Given that I'm unlikely to get out of the city very much and won't have much by way of photographs or video to post, the Winters photo album fills a gap in my reporting.

I also found this photograph on their site. It is the SIL Central Africa Group at their last conference in YaoundÃ© a couple of years ago. If you stare closely you might just make out my bald head in the back row.

