A SENSE OF REALITY

Posted on April 14, 2007 by Eddie

Categories: Mission, Observations

Milton Stanley breaths a sense of reality into the nature of Christian discipleship in his latest post:

> Why does some evangelism insist on presenting Christian discipleship as something that will make our lives run smoothly? As Jesus and the apostles told us, the ruling powers of the world are at war with the church, and Christians had better expect to be hated and attacked if we really live our faith (Jn. 15:20; Eph. 6:10-20; 2 Tim. 3:12).