VEILED IN FLESH

Posted on December 22, 2012 by Eddie

Category: Observations

> Just half a stone of human flesh - snuck into the world while everyone was looking the other way. Meaning nothing, yet meaning everything. Changing nothing, but changing the world, one life at a time. Bringing infinity into the length of child; the timeless, unimaginable depths of God into a human life cut short. Â A very small apocalypse.

Stolen fromÂ Archdruid Eileen.