SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Posted on June 20, 2007 by Eddie

Category: Observations

Our phone line is down, but I only discovered this when our broadband connection was not working well and I tried to phone the service provider.Â These days our phone line is used far more for internet than it ever is for voice calls.

Mind you, I don't understand how the internet connection can work when the phone doesn't. All very strange.