This Sunday evening it was great to be back at Above Bar Church to take part in their series on discipleship. Not surprisingly, I was speaking on the theme of Disciples of All Nations.

The session seemed to be well received, though the person taking this photograph obviously preferred to stay in the lounge rather than come in and listen!

If you would like to listen, you can use the little player thing belowÂ and you can even view my powerpoint slides as a handy pdf document if you wish.
