Thanks to Doug for pointing me to this quiz which gives the definitive statement of my theological position - until the next quiz that is. I seem to remember that last time I did one of these things I was Weslyan (though I can't find the quiz results now). I really should make up my mind sometime.

What's your theological worldview?

You scored as Emergent/PostmodernYou are Emergent/Postmodern in your theology. You feel alienated from older forms of church, you don't think they connect to modern culture very well. No one knows the whole truth about God, and we have much to learn from each other, and so learning takes place in dialogue. Evangelism should take place in relationships rather than through crusades and altar-calls. People are interested in spirituality and want to ask questions, so the church should help them to do this.
