RUMINATIONS ON MISSION ISSUES

Me pontificating about mission on Premier Radio.
Category: Mission

Recently, I was interviewed by Andy Peck of Premier Radio about trends in world mission. This interview turned into two programmes for the leadership file and you can listen to the first one here.

It rather sounds as though I was being interviewed underwater, but it's actually due to the quality of our house phone.

Update: I've just heard that the second recording didn't work because there was a hum on the recording. We'll try and redo it - I'll blog again if it becomes available.
