This looks to be a rather useful online tool for anyone who has to work on the Gospels and who doesn't have access to commercial Bible search software. Strangely, it also includes the Gospel of Thomas. You can select varying combinations of Gospels to search together; including the synoptics and the Q Twosome (using the site's term).Â There is also the possibility to search Paul's quotations of Jesus. The Biblical text is all in the RSV, which is excellent for this sort of resource.
