From today's Telegraph.

> Yoshikuni said Conan generally goes through his prayer routine at the temple in the capital of Japan's southern Okinawa prefecture (state) without prompting before his morning and evening meals.
>
> I think he saw me doing it all the time and got the idea to do it, too," Yoshikuni said.
>
> The priest is now trying to teach him how to meditate.
> Well, sort of. "Basically, I am just trying to get him to sit still while I meditate," he explained. "It's not like we can make him cross his legs."

This raises a number of questions such as, what does a devout Buddhist dog receive by way of karma? and why can't our dog learn to pray for the door to be opened, rather than just barking at us?
